Friends and Partners,

We are thrilled to now be known as the Child Health Partnership!

Our new name represents three of the most important aspects of our work.

CHILD – Babies and young children are at the center of everything we do. Improved access to health care, nurturing homes and school readiness are what we work toward every day.

HEALTH – Our nurses and family support specialists are focused on all the things that help children and families to be healthy and resilient: preventative care, developmental screenings, nutrition, physical activity, mental health supports and much more.

PARTNERSHIP – We partner with families to help them achieve their goals for their children. We partner with other community groups to give children the best possible start. And we partner with each of you to reach and support as many families as possible.

We improved the lives of 550 children last year. Your partnership is critical as we move forward into a new year and a new decade of healthy and resilient children, and a healthy and resilient community. Thank you!

With warmest regards,

Valerie Palamountain

NEW NAME, SAME COMMITMENT TO HEALTHY FAMILIES.

Child Health Partnership has decades of experience in the communities we serve. We got our start in 1991 through the local health department, and in 2008, we became the independent nonprofit Jefferson Area Children’s Health Improvement Program. You probably know us best as CHIP.

While CHIP has been an easy-to-use acronym, many people didn’t know what CHIP stood for, often confusing us with programs that provide housing or insurance, among other things. So in October of 2019 we changed our name to something both new and old: Child Health Partnership was our original name when we started in 1991, and we believe that now it more clearly conveys our focus on children’s health.

Our work remains the same with dedicated teams of community health nurses and family support specialists who meet with families in their home to:

 Promote child and family health and well-being through health assessments, health education, and improved access to health care.

 Enhance parenting skills and confidence through a developmentally appropriate curriculum and trusting relationships.

 Foster self-sufficiency by partnering with families to set goals, solve problems, and connect with community resources.

2,000

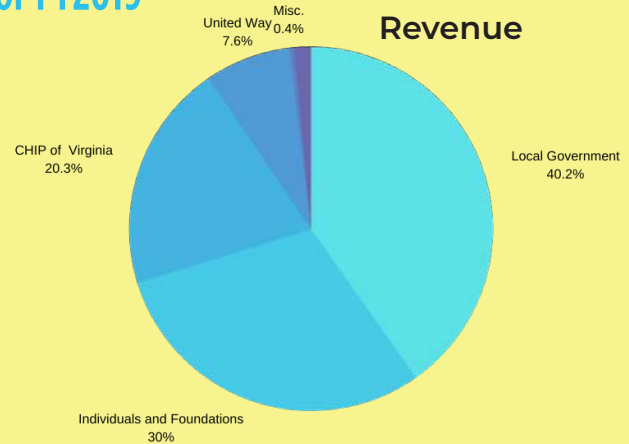

The first 2,000 days of a child's life are the most important and the best time to invest in long-term health and future success in school and in life.

*July 1, 2018-June 30, 2019

Last year, we supported the health and well-being of 550 children in 362 local families including:

69

pregnant women received prenatal case management. Families enrolled in Child Health Partnership are less likely to have low birthweight and preterm babies.

39

pregnant and/or parenting teens
Supported teens learn how to have healthy babies, parent well, stay in school, set goals, and postpone having more children.

81

refugee families
For refugee families resettled in the Charlottesville area, our staff offers cultural sensitivity and an understanding of the impact of trauma.

Partnership works!

“When I knew I was pregnant for the second time, I knew I wanted [Child Health] back in my life. I love when my [Child Health] worker comes over for home visits. I love the play activities, and I love when she gives me positive feedback like, “You’re doing great.” I just love that connection and having the extra support.” ~ Laura, Child Health Partnership mom

“When Laura referred herself back, she wasn’t in crisis. Some families...enroll because they want some support in finding their next step in life. Her next step was thriving, and that’s where she recognized she needed support so that she could get to the thriving part.” ~Farah, Family Support Specialist

After one year of work with CHiP, parents showed a 61% increase in parenting knowledge and a 45% increase in parenting confidence.

- 92% of children have a medical home for sick and prenatal care.
- 92% of children were up to date on their immunizations.
- 83% of children were up to date on well-child care overall.
- 83% of children were enrolled in a preschool or child care.
- 81% of parents scored above the desired benchmark for nurturing behaviors.
- 71% of CHiP babies are breastfed.
- 63% of families had at least one parent employed.
- 6% of children needed dental care and did not receive it.

Your contributions make amazing things happen.
